General Comments

Licensing staff visited the facility to conduct a monitoring visit. Some of the children were inside playing in their classrooms and others had gone outside. The building is well set up for childcare, they have an office, and kitchen area and the classroom all have attached bathrooms, appropriate resources for their age groups, and are creatively decorated and beautifully arranged, to be functional and attractive. The macrame wall hangings holding children's pictures, the canopy over a change table, fairy lights, comfortable chairs and rugs, child sized tables and chairs, natural loose parts, like wood and pinecones and the light calming colours of pink and light green demonstrate the thoughtful environments that the staff are creating. The rooms are divided into activity areas such as the kitchen/family area, reading corners with books, and dress up play area to name a few. Their programming also includes the CAT-RG and the classrooms are posting their reflections.

The outdoor play area play area is very natural and most of the structures are made from wood. They have created a water wall for the children with hoses and water available in the summer. There are wooden bridges, mud kitchen, pergola, raised plant boxes and suspended tires in a bridge format.

The schedule is flexible but consistent and begins in the classroom with free play, snack, outside play and then activities and crafts, lunch and nap and/or quiet time then outside play again in the afternoon. The children's artwork was displayed as were learning stories, messages for parents and staff, and other examples of the facilities' philosophy such as "Play is the Work of Children".

The educators practised positive, pro-active child guidance and they were very kind and patient with the children. They were engaged in the children's play and attentive to their needs. All postings were complete and parents were welcome in the centre.
