Comments: The playpen has a plastic cover that must be covered with a sheet so the child is not sleeping on plastic.

Comments: There is a rip in the changing pad so this needs to be covered or replaced.

General Comments
Children were just waking up when the Quality Assurance Monitor arrived. Child files were reviewed and some suggestions made to ensure required information is included in each file. If a family does not have a family doctor, they can note the local health clinic they visit. Documentation is posted on the wall of children's photos with a description of their play, who is involved, and quotes from the children. The next step will be making connections to the curriculum to highlight the learning children are engaged in. All the photos and children's artifacts are posted down at their level in page protectors so they can revisit their learning. Children went to the washroom when waking up from naps. washing their hands and going to the table. The children played with puzzles at the table before snack and everyone got involved at the table or in a highchair.

Ensure younger children are observed at all times when doing bum changes or eating. A solution can be to take younger children in the hallway outside the washroom to view and wait for bum changes and hand washing until all children have finished eating.

Cleaning was observed before and after snack as well as vacuuming and clean up while children are napping.
