General Comments

Learning experiences inspired by children's interests and webbing are evident in the art area, library, kitchen, and dramatic play spaces. The sensory area is available and sufficiently stocked with rotated accessories to support engagement. Traffic areas and outdoor walkways are clean and free of clutter. Toxic products, including chemical cleaners, are locked and inaccessible to children. Drinking water is made available throughout the day.

The environment provides opportunities for both individual and group learning experiences. Various forms of literacy are embedded within the indoor space, and portfolios are being created in collaboration with the children. Documentation of learning is visible and demonstrates connections to children's interests and educator reflections.

A conversation with the Administrator highlighted both strengths and areas for growth. Strengths include the development and extension of webs with children, and the presence of multiple forms of documentation throughout the facility. Areas for improvement include ensuring that educators maintain an active and engaged presence outdoors to support children's play, and that art areas are consistently well-stocked with materials such as glue, paper, and scissors to support open-ended artistic exploration.
