General Comments A renewal inspection was conducted during the morning and afternoon at the childcare facility. Licensing observed that children in both age groups spent most of their time outdoors in the designated play areas. Children in the preschool program discussed a woodpecker and a deer they had observed during a walk the previous day. Within the learning environment, licensing observed photographs and learning stories documenting children's engagement in a variety of meaningful experiences, including measuring their height using pumpkins, creating "witches' potions" in the tuff tray, making "birthday cakes" using mud and leaves, and exploring gourds and leaves. In the outdoor play environment, preschool children were observed participating in truck and water play, climbing on tires, and engaging in imaginative play within the mud kitchen. School-age children were observed outdoors throughout the inspection during the afternoon. They were actively engaged in the wooded area adjacent to the facility, building with sticks and rocks, climbing on the rope line, riding bicycles, playing baseball, and enjoying their snack outdoors. Licensing observed in both the preschool and school-age indoor learning environments a wide variety of age-appropriate materials were available for the children to interact and engage with during inside time. Licensing observed educators in both groups interacting positively with children by engaging at the children's level during conversations, providing comfort when children were upset, and responding appropriately to their individual needs. The childcare facility is recommended for license renewal.
