General Comments Monitoring Inspection The children were observed in both the indoor and outdoor environments, including the transition between the two. Upon arrival, the children were engaged in a variety of activities, including building with blocks and using the projector with colored shapes before transitioning outdoors. Outdoors, the children were observed eating snack, watering the newly planted flowers, and playing with toy cars. The operator shared several newly added items in the outdoor play space, including hammocks, a pulley system with a basket that children can use to transport items, and a large wooden playhouse. Several forms of documentation were visible throughout the room, including photographs, learning stories, and children's artwork. The room was well organized and inviting, offering a varied supply of age-appropriate materials, books, and toys. Positive child guidance techniques were observed. The operator was seen engaging at the children's level, providing appropriate supervision, using encouraging language, offering choices, and assisting children with decision-making. A clearly visible and prominent area was designated for the posting of the facility license, current monitoring reports, and any orders for compliance. Additional documentation reviewed included incident logs, daily attendance records, and records of evacuation and monthly fire drills.
