General Comments
The following elements were also observed during the monitoring inspection: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>-The child-to-educator ratio</li> <li>-Criminal record checks / vulnerable sector checks, valid first aid certificates and valid CPR certificates, as well as verification of job descriptions and responsibilities for new staff members</li> <li>-Positive guidance. The quality assurance monitor observed an educator sitting with a small group of children at a table, discussing the difference between small, medium, and large. In another classroom, an educator gently asked a child to come see her and positioned herself at the child's level to invite them to listen to the story. During the quiet/rest period, an educator gently scratched a child's back.</li> <li>-Daily activities and documentation. In another classroom, preschoolers were observed engaging in independent reading (looking at pictures and turning pages). A Christmas wreath made by the children was displayed in one classroom. In another classroom, there were gingerbread crafts, posters documenting a musical-chairs activity, and photos of the children with Santa Claus accompanied by related documentation.</li> </ul> During the monitoring inspection, the quality assurance monitor observed indoor free play, quiet activities (children looking at pictures in a book), handwashing, and lunchtime. Questions were answered on site.
