General Comments

When licensing staff arrived, children were just waking up from naps. Children moved to the play area to play with the materials and look at their books. The operator read a collection of Halloween books to the children that they were familiar with. She read stopping at certain passages and letting the children finish reading as well as giving children a choice of what book to read next. It was a joy to watch this engagement with picture books between the operator and children.

The operator was having a little Halloween party this afternoon, and a parent had arrived early to pick up one of their children and allow their other child an opportunity to play as they would soon be attending. Licensing staff suggested a future visit in the morning to see their whole program and allow them to enjoy their Halloween treats.
