General Comments

The inspector is on site to conduct the renewal inspection.

Upon the inspector's arrival, the operator and children are returning from a morning walk.

During the inspection, the inspector observes children washing their hands before lunch, the lunch period, listening to a story before the rest period, and the rest period. Children who are not sleeping are engaged in quiet activities, including reading books and quiet play with the operator.

Positive child guidance practices are observed throughout the inspection. The operator speaks to the children in a calm and respectful manner and gets down to their level to interact with them.

A discussion is held with the operator regarding children's personal belongings. The inspector reminds the operator that all personal items, including lunch boxes and water bottles, must be clearly labelled with the child's name.

The ratio is respected throughout the inspection.
