General Comments
Monitoring inspection completed today. Children were observed in play throughout the inspection. The indoor play environments are purposefully planned with a variety of interest centres and materials that encourage children to independently explore and choose materials. Children's current interests are reflected in the documentation and materials available. Educators were observed to be comfortable participating in play with children and engaged as conversational partners, asking open-ended questions and listening intently to children's responses. Documentation posted in the learning environments, include interest webs, songs, creative art with children's names and words, and learning stories. Documentation displays are displayed so that they are accessible for children. Documentation posted in the entry way invites families to explore, and discuss with educators and children recent experiences the children have engaged in.
