General Comments

A monitoring inspection occurred this afternoon on the school-age license.

Upon arrival at the childcare center, Inspector observed that the children and educators were not at the center. Inspector went to Quispamsis Elementary School where the children utilize the outside play area and observed the children for part of the inspection.

Inspector observed the children engaged in playing on the school playground equipment, sliding on the slides, swinging on the swings, and socializing with their peers. Educators were observed positioned around the play area so that all children were under their supervision. Operator arrived at the school and transported the children to the school-age program via the childcare bus.

At the school-age program, the children were observed by the Inspector having snack, playing air hockey, drawing, creating Pokémon's, painting, and engaged in the "Clue" board game.

Indirect supervision was observed as there are four licensed spaces within this school-age program. Children who were in the main area and wanted to go to the quiet room or games room were observed asking the educators if they could go to those rooms. Educators were then observed circulating between the rooms where the children were engaged in other activities.

Administrator indicated that on professional development days, snow days and summer, when more children are in attendance, she will have one educator in each of the separate rooms where the children are engaged in activities.

Inspector reviewed four (4) staff files, and they were verified complete and accurate. Fire Drills and required postings were also verified complete.

Discussed with the Administrator incident logs and the requirement of maintaining files.

Educators were observed using positive child guidance techniques when interacting and engaging with the
