General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection was completed this morning. Children were observed during inside play. The school aged children were supposed to be going on a field trip today, to the Aquatic Centre, but plans had changed this morning, due to unforeseen circumstances. Children were disappointed. QAM asked children what their present interests are, and children stated that they like to draw, build with Lego, and play with Barbies. Children were observed eating snacks, building with Magnetic Tiles, and sitting together, having conversations. The preschool children were observed playing doctor with their stuffed animals, pretending to be Superheroes, drawing Superheroes, and playing with Kinetic Sand. Children were also observed walking around their room, viewing several pieces of classroom documentation. Documentation included several photos of the children, taking part in play. Children were excited to point to themselves and to tell QAM what they were doing, in each of the pictures.
