General Comments

A renewal inspection occurred today. Children were observed both indoors and out. Educators were observed having meaningful positive conversations with the children, directly on the children's level. Learning environments throughout the facility were flexible to accommodate children's emerging interest.

Preschool had lots of documentation displayed that is reflective of children's current interests, curiosities and passions. A penguin web "it's getting cold outside" was supportive of different modes of communication to represent children's thinking and understanding.

Upstairs small room had displayed photos of children engaged in activities including "paint and eggs". The documentation demonstrated children's ongoing group project work and individual work in progress.

Upstairs large room displayed multiple webs, one was hockey themed. The environment was flexible to accommodate children's emerging interests including a hockey corner for the children to engage in active play. All checks were complete. Staff files and children's files were organized and also complete.
