General Comments

A follow-up inspection occurred on November 16, 2026. Materials had been added throughout the learning environment to ensure there were sufficient resources available for the number of children enrolled. Enhancements were observed in several learning areas, including art, science, reading, dramatic play, and loose parts. Photos of children engaged in play were displayed in picture frames throughout the space helping to create a welcoming environment. A conversation was held with administration regarding the challenges educators face in preparing the learning environment before children arrive from school. It was suggested that administration discuss the possibility of providing educators with additional preparation time prior to the children's arrival. An extra 10 minutes would allow educators to thoughtfully set up materials and learning experiences, ensuring the environment is ready for children to engage immediately upon entering the space rather than waiting while educators complete room setup.
