General Comments

Licensing staff arrived to conduct the renewal inspection. Upon arrival, the Operator was waiting for the children to arrive from school. The bathroom was checked, the attendance record form was ready, and the first aid bag was gathered to be taken outdoors. The main indoor space was clean and organized. Play material such as floor hockey equipment, a foosball table, art supplies, a magnet wall, Lego, and books were in good condition and tidy. The cubby room was neat with hooks for bookbags, coats and a shelf for shoes. There were photos of the children and positive words of affirmation posted.

As the children arrived off the bus, the Operator welcomed the children and completed the daily attendance form. The children were observed washing their hands upon arrival and filling up their water bottles before going outdoors to play. The outdoor play space was shaded by large trees and was fully fenced. Play material such as ball hockey equipment, soccer balls and net, a football, and a ninja climbing line were readily available and additional material was organized in bins below the deck. The children were observed playing soccer and exploring for caterpillars. The Operator was actively engaged with the children during the inspection and was engaged in many conversations. A gentle reminder was heard from the Operator reminding the children to remain seated while eating a sucker.

During the inspection, child and staff files were verified. Monthly fire drills are being conducted and recorded, and evacuation plans were posted. There was evidence of a daily routine as well as strong relationships between peers and the Operator.

Licensing staff recommends for renewal.
