General Comments

Educators were continuously interacting with children at time of visit. Licensing staff witnessed free play, invitations to play, small group activities, transition times and meal and washroom routines. Educators gave gentle reminders to children when they needed to redirect challenging behaviours and were very attentive to children when they got hurt.

The classroom environments are kept organized and clean and have many learning opportunities available for the children. Educators are pre-planning their days by using a chart that outlines different areas of development and adding activities to complement the children's interests. Documentation includes pictures, learning stories, and children's work can be seen displayed throughout the facility.

All records were easily verified as the filing system is organized and complete. Potential illness forms, incident reports, Infant / Toddler sheets and notice to inform of illnesses are being used immediately and filed appropriately.

Licensing staff can recommend facility for licensing.
