General Comments Upon arrival to facility the infants were in the outdoor play space with one educator. Turf has been placed in this space allowing for a smooth surface for the children to use the ride on toys. Licensing staff entered the facility and there were several tables set up for invitations for play in the 3 and 4 year old room. This included blocks and playdough, paint, little blocks, puzzles and Kinetic sand. The educators were engaged with the children at the tables. In the 3 year old class, the children were sitting with the educators as one of them read a book to the children. The children appeared engaged and interested. The two year old room had just returned from a walk, diapers were changed and invitations for play were set up at the tables for them prior to lunch. Licensing staff noticed that there are many more resources and materials available to the children. Documentation included the children's art work, learning stories, photos of both the children and their families, and photos of different experiences that the children have had. Documentation is posted in classrooms and were observed also in the stairwell. One of the educators was really excited to speak of a field trip that the 3's and 4's class had been on to the Dancing Goat Farm and described how intrigued the children were by all of the different animals. Permission slips were signed by each parent and a rented bus was used for transportation. All lunches and snacks are brought from home. Handwashing was evident before meals and it was observed that routines have been established. The children transition with ease as they know what is expected of them. Educators have a calm and positive demeanor when interacting with the children. They were observed giving

The filing system is organized and documentation was easily verified by licensing staff.

I can now recommend for licensing pending a current Health inspection.
