General Comments School aged children had outdoor play as soon as they got off the bus. The daily routine allows for children to play before going inside and having snack. Educators remained engaged with the children playing basketball and asking them about their day at school. Positive comments such as "Good job, awesome, wow you did it." were heard as the educators' celebrated moments of success with the children. Children have been interested in digging in the dirt and the centre has created a Dig Zone. There were signs for the dig site and enough scoops, bowls, mats and shovels for all children to participate. Educators spread out on the playground and maintained sight lines. Cooperation and communication were used among staff to coordinate walking to the bus stop, filling up water bottles and taking children into the washroom. Educators displayed positive child guidance techniques to remind children to not stand on chairs and to use the skipping ropes safely. New staff files were organized and complete with all necessary documents.
