| General Comments |
| The children were getting ready for outdoor playtime when I arrived. While outside the children made snowballs, a snowman, dug in the snow with shovels, played on the swinging steps, and made snow angels. The educators were engaged with the children, helping them make snowballs and a snowman. A routine has been established in the facility as noted when the children came inside for lunch. The children took off their outdoor clothes and went to sit quietly on the rug and played with fidgets until everyone was undressed. They washed their hands and went to the table for lunch. After lunch, some of the children went for a nap and for the children that do not nap, quiet activities were set up at tables. The facility is clean and organized. The materials are on low, open shelves which makes the items easily accessible for the children. One relief educator does not have an approved first aid course. Please have this educator update their first aid with an approved course. |
