General Comments

Licensing Staff arrived at the facility to perform a Monitoring Inspection. Upon arrival, the children in the 3's classroom, were napping. Calming music was playing in the background and curtains were closed. The Educator had set out playdoh and farm animals at the table for when the children started waking up. In the 4's classroom the children were engaged in tabletop activities. The Educators were observed sitting at the tables with the children as they colored and built with Lego and blocks.

Once quiet time was over, the children in the 4's classroom prepared to go outside. One Educator brought the group to the bathroom before getting ready and going outside. Once all the children in the 3's classroom were awake, the children had a bathroom break and got ready to join the other class outside. Water bottles were filled and brought out. While outside the Educators were well spread out to ensure all areas of the playground were supervised. The children were seen playing on the swing sets, monkey bars, digging, and playing with trucks.

Allergies were posted in each classroom. Classrooms are bright and inviting. The Educators were attentive to the needs of the children. As they prepared for outside, both Educators sat on the ground helping the children with zippers if needed and offering praise, " You've been practicing putting your boots on. Great work!". A conversation was had on site about including additional photos of the children in the classrooms. Pictures can be taken during activities and with their peers. Added quotes or a small write up to go along with it is an excellent way to create a more reflective sense of self, others and feeling represented in the classroom.
