General Comments

Staff files were complete according to the New Brunswick Regulation under the Early Childhood Services Act.

During today's monitoring inspection, the younger school aged children were observed making bracelets and doing other crafts while waiting for the older children to be dismissed from school. Once everyone had arrived from school, the educators allowed the children time for free play. When it was time to get ready to head outside, the educators assured that children had enough time to prepare them for the transition between activities.

Educators were able to keep the children who were dressed for outside entertained by playing a guessing game where someone picked an animal and the rest of the group had to guess what the animal was by only asking yes or no questions.

Once outside, educators were able to assure that children remained in their group bubble while playing on the school-maintained playground. Observed gentle reminders being given to the children who would attempt to get on a structure, unknowing that another "bubble group" was already playing on.
