General Comments Licensing staff conducted the renewal inspection. Upon arrival, the children had finished school and were already in the gym for the after-school program. The gym was set up with a variety of materials and activity areas, including board games, a reading corner, a dramatic play area, building blocks, dolls, a craft area, and an open space for active play and ball games. An invitation to play had also been prepared by the educators, allowing children to create "patchwork pumpkins." Children were able to have snack at their convenience at a designated table that had been cleaned and prepared for eating. The educator provided the group with a 25-minute reminder before transitioning outdoors. When it was time to get ready, the educator gathered the children's attention and invited them to sit on the carpet while explaining what they would need to bring outside. The children then filled their water bottles, collected their backpacks, and put on their outdoor clothing. They lined up at the door to form a "train," with the educator acting as the train conductor and the last child designated as the "caboose." The group transitioned outdoors together. The educator brought the attendance sheet and a first aid kit for the outdoor activity. Staff and children's files were reviewed and found to be in order. Monthly fire drills are completed. Only positive child guidance was observed. Licensing staff recommends the program for renewal.
