General Comments <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The visit was completed at the establishment in the morning for a monitoring inspection. During the visit, staff-to-child ratios were respected. All required documents were available on the parent information board, which is posted at the daycare entrance. Five children's files were reviewed; both the child profiles and consent forms were completed appropriately. A daily incident log is maintained. Parents are informed of any incidents and sign the log daily. Observations: During free play, the children played with cars, built with blocks, and participated in a dance activity. The children washed their hands and ate their snack, which was provided by the parent. Diaper changing was also witnessed during the visit. The educator was engaged in discussions with the children during snack time and free-play activities. A discussion was held with the operator regarding communicable diseases. The updated communicable disease posters were distributed during the visit.
