General Comments
The Quality Assurance Monitor conducted an on-site monitoring inspection. During the visit, the following elements were reviewed: - Indoor play area - Required postings - Daily activities - Incident records - Child record files While on site, children were observed playing indoors. The Quality Assurance Monitor also observed children engaging in a pumpkin carving activity with their educators. A conversation took place with the administrator regarding professional development hours that were not completed during the previous renewal inspection. Eligible staff members had until June 31, 2025, to fulfill these requirements. The administrator informed the Quality Assurance Monitor that the hours were not completed by the deadline. However, the administrator confirmed that eligible staff members are currently working on completing their professional development hours for the upcoming renewal year.
