General Comments

I was logged in at the school and I was screened at the door of the after school program. It appears the program is following all COVID guidelines well.

The room is set up into centers and allows for a good flow of traffic. There are a variety of materials and activities for the children to do. There is also children's work displayed on the walls. They have been working with different kinds of materials to make art.

The younger children arrive to the after school room first and then the older children arrive later. Upon arrival, the children have free time to choose what they would like to do. It appeared that lego and coloring were the popular choices. The older children chose to play a memory game together. After free play, the children had a snack. Then the children made bunny masks or bunny ears for Easter and then the group played a game of 'bunny ear toss' with the educators. The children seemed to really enjoy this game. I observed positive child guidance during my visit such as gentle reminders, offering choices, encouragement, and setting boundaries. The program appears to be running smoothly.
