General Comments

On the day of my visit the center was functioning very well. There is communication between the educators and they work well as a team.

The infants were getting ready for out door play time. The 4-5's class were having music time. The children were playing banjos, xylophones, drums and numerous other noise making items. The 2-3's group had a variety of activities happening in their room from story time, free play and a couple children were sitting by the family tree looking at the pictures.

The center follows the proper protocols for meal and nap time.

The facility used the proper documents as I witnessed an educator filling out potential illness and return after inclusion forms.

The educators and children were friendly during my visit.
