General Comments

It was snack time when I arrived. Children bring their own snacks and lunch and have the opportunity to purchase hot lunch from the school. The children in the daycare split into 2 groups this morning with 2 children going to the smaller room with one educator and 3 children remaining with the other educator. The train table had rice on one side with containers for pouring and grass and green on the other side. The resources are easily accessible for the children and a small couch and chairs with a rug surround the bookshelf for a welcoming reading area.

The children in the preschool room were listening to the 3 bears and viewing the felt board with it. The educator and children had a discussion of what would you do if you woke up to a bear in your room. A child picked a book from the bookshelf to read and there was a lot of discussion and talk about the colors and animals in the book. The children enjoyed talking about items they liked and animals they knew.

The preschool room has several plants and includes all curriculum areas. Children were especially interested in letters and numbers and could find them in a variety of areas.

Todd Parr was highlighted on the author/illustrator wall including information about Todd Parr, photos, quotes and copies of his books. By making this connection with authors and illustrators, children learn that authors and illustrators are people like them.

Due to the cold temperatures today, children went to the gym to play instead of going outside. Children were riding on the ride-on toys, playing with the balls, pylons and running back and forth.

Please update the QA monitor information with the correct contact information.
