General Comments

Each age group has materials and activities that are developmentally appropriate for each age group served. The new added preschool space for 4 year olds is set up with various learning centres and has an inviting atmosphere. The centres included Science, Writing, small manipulatives, dramatic play, block area, reading area, Picasso art centre and games. It is a demonstration of what is outlined in the Curriculum Framework.

All educators are pre-planning by listing ideas, using webbing and journaling. This programming is child lead and is visible throughout all age groups. Educators are also using pictures, artwork, learning stories, and portfolios to document each child's individual learning.

Upon visiting each room, the reflection of positive child guidance was evident. Educators were at the children's levels reading, talking and engaging with them. Inclusion practices are evident. Licensing staff could not differentiate between the educator and the educational assistant until the child started to run and the educator stated that she was the Educational assistant for this particular child.

Filing system is kept in an organized and complete fashion. Licensing staff is able to recommend facility for licensing.
