General Comments

Older school age children were watching a movie upon arrival of licensing staff. Program planning for the day had planned for children to go on a nature walk but with the rain the educators had switched their planned movie from Friday to today and will do their walk on Friday.

Classroom was well organized, program planning was completed for the week and the materials in the classroom were developmentally appropriate. Child was given an ice pack when they bumped their head, and an incident report was completed during the monitoring inspection.

Younger preschool age children were observed doing their bathroom routine, the diaper changing area was well organized and clean, with each child having their own cubby for their belongings. Diapering procedures were properly posted. The children then had some free play and enjoyed some songs and finger plays with their educators. Children then sat for their lunch while an educator sat with them.

The classroom contained many activity areas that were inviting for play and for children to explore and ask questions such as frog life cycles and heart health. The science area is a very nice addition to the room and documentation of learning shows evidence of play based and child lead learning (Taste Test Tuesday).

The school aged children were on a field trip but arrived back at the facility during the monitoring inspection. Positive child guidance was observed at all times.
