General Comments

On the day of my visit the children were having a snack of apples, whole wheat crackers and milk. The parents are kept informed by a weekly newsletter and a closed Facebook page. The Operator will print the weekly pages and collect them for her own portfolio as they are really well done and demonstrate the programming in action. The Operator will send me her page of professional development which exceeds the required 30 hours to me for her file. The Operator is leading a book study on "Kids these Days" by Jody Carrington that explores the social/emotional issues of children and gives insights into how to make connections etc.

Everyone went outside to make slime and the environments inside and outside are exceptional. They are well set up for the children's use with lots of materials and interesting things to do.

The environment inside and outside is suerio
