General Comments
Children engaged in indoor and outdoor play during monitoring inspection. Indoor environments provide a variety of materials for children to engage with. Today, children were observed in the art centre, playing with lego and small blocks, playing a board game and reading quietly. Photos of children and their projects and art work displayed throughout the environments demonstrates how their work is valued and creates a sense belonging. Today was the first day for a new child. The educator was observed introducing him to the children in the group and inviting children to show him around the classroom. What a great way to introduce a new child to the program and make them feel welcome! Hand washing observed as children arrived.
