The indoor play area is set-up with a variety of invitations for children to explore freely when they arrive from school. The indoor play area is organized and well-maintained.

A variety of documentation is displayed throughout the learning environment that supports the current interests (science experiments, outdoor play, house and painting) of the children. Documentation includes photos of the children, learning stories, open-ended art pieces, children's words, and questions. Documentation includes connections to the NB Curriculum Framework.

Educators observed encouraging children to clean up independently before outdoor play.

Daily attendance forms are maintained and accurate.
