General Comments
Quality Assurance Monitor observed that all classrooms have a variety of documentation on display, children's learning is made visible in the webs, learning stories, photos and other forms of documentation. All educators are using webs which demonstrates that the daily activities are purposely planned. Most educators, through their use of planning tools and the documentation on display, are also demonstrating that their planning is a process that involves engaging the children and reflecting on the children's interests, passions, strengths and abilities. Educators took children outside to provide an opportunity for physical activity &amp; outdoor play.
