General Comments

of the children engaged in these activities are documented and displayed on the walls of the learning environment. Children have also been exploring numbers and math, and educators have created items using loose parts, cardboard and materials showing numbers for the children to explore and learn.

In Room 11 the children were observed by the inspector preparing for outside play and singing songs during morning meeting. Inspector observed documentation in this room of the children exploring paint with brushes and fingers, building blocks, and samples of the children's mark making was displayed.

Educators in all the rooms were observed tending to the needs of the children, interacting with them down at their level on the floor, and speaking kindly and appropriately to them.
