General Comments
A Monitoring Inspection was conducted this morning. Children were observed in their classroom. Children were observed taking part in a variety of activities - puzzles, Tonie Box, arts and crafts, building with wooden and foam blocks, playing with Play Doh, and playing in their wooden loft. Educators were observed sitting with the children, taking part in play, and conversing with the children. Educators stated that the children are presently interested in Fall leaves, Play Doh, their wooden loft, and playing outside. Several well-defined learning / play centers were observed - dramatic play, arts & crafts, building, music, books, board games, etc. Materials and supplies were plentiful in all areas. A tuff tray with play doh and play doh materials was observed, as well as a light table. Several forms of documentation were observed inside and outside of the classroom - children's photos, learning stories, and children's art creations. Parent Board was observed and all required documentation was present. The outside play area was observed while the children were inside. Plenty of pea gravel was observed in and around the playground. The outside play area also included benches, a wooden house, a wooden car, a wooden tunnel, wood logs, and a wooden rock kitchen.
