General Comments

I was signed in upon arrival. The children were participating in free play indoors this afternoon as there was inclement weather outside. Some children were playing with sensory materials such as sand and play doh, while others were building with blocks. Others were playing with a doll house and kitchen, and musical instruments. I saw one class singing and dancing for a little while.

Each classroom has a variety of age-appropriate materials and activities for the children to play with. There are many natural materials within the center, as well as in the outdoor play area. The outdoor play area is spacious and has a large variety of plants, flowers, rocks and trees. There are also features such as slides, tunnels, water play, treed areas, seating areas, and lots of shade provided.

I looked at the staff files and they are well organized. They contain all necessary documentation and all checks and first aid certificates are up to date. I also looked at a sample of the child files and they were also well organized and contained all necessary documentation and consents.

I noted many positive child guidance techniques by the educators such as offering choices, gentle reminders, appropriate humor, encouragement and positive reinforcement. The educators were actively involved with the children and the children appeared to be having fun.

Everything seemed to be running well on the day of my visit.
