General Comments

The center was clean and bright during my visit. The children were playing with various toys and learning activities. The educators were engaged with the children and I observed lots of positive interaction.

COVID observation and recommendations:

Bubbles cannot be mixed and if children must walk across another bubble to get their personal belongings then they must remain 6 feet away from other children. If that is not possible, the children's personal belongings should be moved to their bubble location.

You are required to have up to date records of household members for each child attending the facility.

You must keep a complete list of staff, volunteers or any other visitors attending the facility regardless of the duration. This log must contain their name, contact information, date and time they are in the facility. They must also all be screened before entering the facility.

A daily log must be kept for each self-contained group that include the names of those in the group, daily attendance record, date the group was established as well a daily temperature of each child and educator. The template for this log is in the recovery phase document.

For each group, the same educator should stay together with the same group of children throughout the day including at the beginning and at the end of the day. A relief educator may cover lunch breaks, however, it is incumbent on the operator to ensure that the relief personnel is a consistent person within the facility and with the groups of children they support.

We recommend that you Holly wear a mask when you are going between bubbles and also limit your movements between bubbles. Staff movements between bubbles should only be for things that are absolutely necessary such as covering lunches or cleaning. Bubbles are put in place to avoid an center wide outbreak.

Staff should remain 6 feet away from one and another if they are not in the same bubble. If they are unable to
