General Comments

On the morning of the monitoring inspection, children were engaged in different activities.

The Kindergarten group was creating a Leprechaun Den. Markers, paint, brushes, cardboard boxes, paper, tape, glue and scissors were made available for children to independently choose their materials.

The 3/4 group was also creating a Leprechaun Trap and using similar materials in addition to gold glitter.

The 4/5 group was completing a pizza math activity following recipe cards to add different ingredients to their pizza.

The 3/4 group was in the library area and snuggled up with blankets listening to a story and having a special snack.

Children prepared to go outside and the large open space inside by the door allowed for plenty of space for children to spread out and get dressed. The administrator and educators were on hand to help but encouraged children to practice independence and dress themselves. Educators broke the task down into steps for children who required assistance and reminded them that taking their indoor shoes off was Step #1.

Once outdoors, children could freely play and explore in the snow, sand, and bits of water that were on the path. Scoops, cups, shovels, buckets, and bowls were available for the children to play with. A large, covered tote also had other accessible materials such as trucks. Educators spread out throughout the space along the gate and sight lines were maintained.

Educators displayed positive child guidance. Educators spoke to children in a respectful and nurturing manner. Educators were playing with children outside and took interest in their imaginative play.
