Comments: In one room the educators do not have a documented program, a documented plan is required to demonstrate how they purposely plan the activities for their group of children. In the other rooms, there are a variety of planning tools in use. The next steps are to demonstrate how their plans respond to the capabilities, needs and interests of each child.

General Comments
Ratios were respected during the inspection. The QA Monitor and the Administrator discussed reflective practice and the value of documentation of educator's planning. QA Monitor will send some additional resources to the Administrator.
