General Comments An educator asked licensing staff Covid-19 screening question and took her temperature upon arrival. The infants and toddlers were engaging in outdoor play when licensing staff arrived at the centre. Child-to-staff ratio was conducted. There were 3 infants and 2 educators present on the playground and there were 4 toddlers and 2 educators also on the playground. Licensing staff noted an appropriate amount, and variety, of play materials for the children to engage with while outside. There were ride on cars, large sticks, balls, shovels, pails and smaller sticks for the children to play with. The two year old children and educators went for a walk during their outdoor play time. As licensing staff was traveling to the centre, they observed the two year old children motion to a truck driver to honk his horn as he passed by them. The truck driver saw the children motion for him to honk his horn and then did so. Lots of smiles on the children's faces were observed after the truck driver honked his horn. Licensing staff followed the infant and toddler children into the centre and while inside, licensing staff conducted child-to-staff ratio for the two year old classroom. There were 2 educators for 7 children.
