General Comments

Upon my arrival the preschool children were playing. There was lots of invitation of play on the tables. They then had snack and read a book as a group. During the reading the educator was engaged with the children, encouraging participation and discussions about the book. They then went outside and came back inside around noon for lunch. During lunch the educator was sitting at the table with the children while having their lunch and engaged in conversation with them. After lunch they had quiet time, some napped, others did quiet activities.

Upon my arrival the after-school children were in circle time then they went outside and spent all morning outside until about 11:30. They came inside, washed their hands, read a book and had lunch. After lunch they had a quiet period where they played games/activities or their choosing.

The centre is clean and organized in different interest areas. There are different materials to meet the children different interest and educational needs such as materials for literacy, arts, building, drama and opportunities for individual and group play.

The outdoor playground is free of hazard and there is varied and sufficient quantity of materials for all children present. The stationary equipment is surrounded by protective surfacing of appropriate depth.

Positive child guidance was observed such as gentle reminders and encouragements. The educators were engaged with the children and were observed helping the children when needed.

Everything is in compliance; I recommend for renewal.
