General Comments

The children were in the outdoor play space when I arrived. While outside the children were engaged in a variety of activities. The children had a car wash at the water table, played a super hero game, rolled around in the grass and threw the frisbee.

The children were getting hungry, so the operator decided to have an early lunch. While the children ate lunch a story was read to them. The story of the day was "Find Anthony Ant" by Lorna and Graham Philpot. After lunch the children had some free play time. They all spat on the mat and played lego and with the magna-tiles. While the children were playing the operator told me about and showed pictures of a recent field trip they went on to Hansen Art Gallery & Sculpture Garden.

When speaking to the children the operator uses a calm tone and encourages the children to use their words to express their feelings.

There many natural elements, plants and children's artwork displayed throughout the room that give the facility a welcoming feeling.

The children are comfortable in the environment and are with the daily routine.
