General Comments

On the day of my visit the afterschool programs were functioning very well. There are 3 classrooms dedicated to the afterschool programs. The classrooms are all comfortable and well set up for the children's use. The Educators have many interesting ideas that they bring to their programming. The Maker's room has a variety of STEM materials (circuit boards), Kathryn's room is interested in weaving, and the larger afterschool room has table top games (air hockey) set up and really love investigating and making crafts.

The afterschool program uses Henry Park for outdoor play which is a public space which belongs to the City.
