General Comments

Licensing staff arrived as three children and an educator were sliding outside on a hill. Outdoor activity was being done safely, and supervision was being maintained.
8 children remained inside by choice and were engaged in several activities such as magna tiles, marble run, k'nects and pictionary. Children were given the opportunity to select their own activities and some were observed reading, coloring, skipping and balancing in a gross motor area.
The schedule was posted for the day and since not all the children spent a lot of time outdoors on this date because of the weather, the schedule was adjusted to include time in the studio room to play dodgeball. Children took their water bottles and engaged in other gross motor games after they finished with dodgeball. Children's files were reviewed and contained all necessary documentation. Incident logbook was also checked and incident sheets are being completed by educators, signed by parents and filed appropriately.
Positive behaviour strategies were observed, and all children were engaged throughout the inspection
