General Comments

There were two groups of children present when I arrived for today's monitoring inspection. The first group was outside playing. They were observed partaking in several different activities, for example – playing basketball, imaginary play under the dome, playing imaginary dinosaurs, playing on the play structure, etc.

The second group of children started off their day inside playing card games, reading books and coloring. They ended up going outside to play shortly after my arrival.

When the later dismissal children arrived via Go-Go bus, they went right outside to play.

One sunshade was observed to not be set up at time of inspection. Educator and administer informed Quality Assurance Monitor that it was ripped during a heavy rain/windstorm not long ago and that another one has been ordered. An additional shade umbrella has been set up in the play space while waiting for the sunshade to come in.

All educators were observed interacting with children at time of visit. They were also observed positioning themselves outside to ensure they could properly supervise the children.

When group 1 came inside, they were observed washing their hands and having snack. After snack, the children were observed playing a game of "Poison Frog" with one of their educators. Children who didn't want to participate in the game were observed participating in other activities around the room.

When group 2 came inside, they were observed in the smaller room playing boardgames and card games, before being invited to join in with the larger group once numbers permitted.

Fire drills, outside playground checks, and First Aid kit checks are being completed on a monthly basis.

All staff and child files that were observed today were well organized and in compliance with Licensing Regulations.
