General Comments

Licensing staff arrived at the facility to conduct a monitoring visit. The children had spent the morning on a field trip and had just returned to the center and finished their lunches. The educators in the larger group had the children in a circle on the rug to review quiet time activities and ask the children which tabletop activities that they wanted to participate in. Everyone chose an activity such as reading in the reading corner, others were weaving/looming, or making bracelets with pipe cleaner and beads, using K'Nex to make spinning tops, lego at the lego table, chess and drawing. One of the educators put on quiet instrumental music and encouraged the children to be quieter that the music. In the smaller room the children did a hot chocolate craft with paper and cotton balls for the marshmallows. After quiet time everyone went outside to the two fenced in outdoor play ares to play.

The parent board and staff files are up to date and this week's theme is Inspire, Create and Build. The educators were firm, but kind and all child guidance was positive and pro-active. The rooms are bright and clean with comfortable child sized furniture in every room.
