General Comments

Children were eating their morning snack when licensing staff arrived. They had been out for a walk earlier.

After snack the children had some different activities to participate in from mark making, matching games and "Silly Science Game" in which the children used tweezers to put the colored objects in the matching test tubes.

Once the children finished the activities it was time for outdoor play. The children were engaged in variety of activities such as playing on the swings, water play and marking with chalk.

The operator and the children will be planting seeds soon and she has also ordered insects larvae so the children can learn how the larvae turn into moths and butterflies.

The facility is very clean. The operator is patient and attentive to the children's needs.
