General Comments

Children were heading outside at time of visit. The Operator takes the children to the front of the house during the morning and the back in the afternoon to maximize the use of the shade.

The Operator is using pictures, artwork, learning stories, and charts to document the learning of the children. There has been many improvements to the play space and there is a variety of learning centres set up for the children. Supplies are readily available to the children at their level offering choices to create during play.

Operator stated that she has not had to use potential illness forms as the children stay home if they are ill. She does mark the absent reason on the attendance records.

Incident records are kept in individual children's files and there has been no reportable incidents to report.

Operator is attentive to the needs of the children. She engages with the children in a kind and patient manner.

All files and documents are complete and kept in an organized manner. They were easily verified.
