General Comments
A Monitoring Inspection was completed this afternoon. Children were observed playing outside at QAM's arrival. Children were observed playing in the wooden area, swinging, and playing on the equipment. Children were observed lining up for snack and indoor play at 3:15. Upon entering the building, children were observed washing their hands. Some children chose to eat snack right away, while others decided to play. Children were observed eating snack, playing Jenga with an educator, playing in the dramatic play kitchen making QAM ice-cream and coffee, drawing, and building. Children were also observed taking part in a blow paint art activity. Some documentation was observed on the walls, and educators stated that more would be added soon. Both classrooms had several well-defined learning / play centers, that were well stocked with materials and accessories. Positive child guidance techniques were observed – educators taking part in activities, educators providing choices, and educators using positive language.
