General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection was conducted this afternoon.

At Quality Assurance Monitor's arrival, children were observed outside, taking part in a variety of outdoor activities – playing on the playground, playing soccer, exploring the woods, and building forts. Positive child guidance techniques were observed – educators assisting children on the swings, educators providing comfort, and educators providing appropriate supervision.

Children were observed transitioning inside, for snack and free play. Educators were observed counting the children, before entering the building. Once inside, children were observed washing their hands, before eating snack.

Tabletop invitations were set up for the children – Lume bracelets, a craft involving popsicle sticks and markers, and Fall-themed coloring sheets. Both classrooms had several well-defined learning / play centers – arts and crafts, cozy reading areas, building, games, transportation, and large dramatic play areas.

Staff files were reviewed and updated.
