General Comments

Upon the arrival of licensing staff, children in each classroom, including infants, were finishing their snacks and preparing for outdoor play. Educators supported and encouraged the children as they got ready, assisting with coats when needed while also promoting independence.

Once outside, infants were observed on a walk, followed by time in the playground where educators facilitated interactive play with bubbles. Children aged 2–4 years engaged with various materials in the main outdoor play area, including trucks, toy cars, a play kitchen, dolls, and a sand pit. A craft station featuring stickers, paper, and paint was set up on a picnic table, providing an additional opportunity for creative play.

All groups transitioned indoors for lunch, following proper handwashing procedures. During mealtime, children remained seated at the tables. After lunch, each group followed a consistent routine, transitioning smoothly to nap or quiet time, with proper diaper and bathroom routines.

Inside the classrooms, documentation of children's and infants' activities was displayed on the walls. These included projects centered around seasonal themes (e.g., eggs and Easter), animals, and insects. Age-appropriate materials were available in each room, including natural and wooden toys, animal figures, dolls, blocks, and Legos. Documentation and family photographs were placed at child-accessible heights, promoting engagement.

In the afternoon, children aged 3–4 years participated in block and Lego play, toy tools and animal figures, and had access to coloring invitations set out on tables. A group dance activity was facilitated before snack.

Following nap time, infants and 2-year-olds transitioned to snack after proper handwashing and diapering routines were followed. Afterwards, children gathered in a circle for story time with the educator and engaged in a discussion about animals and their sounds.

Before heading outdoors again in the afternoon for the rest of the day, all age groups received sunscreen application.
